Conservative Congressional Convention.

The Conservative Congressional Convention. to nominate a candidate for Congress from the Seventh District, meets in this city to morrow morning at 11 o'clock, in the Assemble Rooms.

MR. CLAUGHTON'S SPEECH -H. O. Claugh ton, e-a, one of the candidates for the Con servative Congressional nomination for this district, delivered an able address at Liberty Hall, last night, to the citizens assembled there. He denied the statement made in a letter from Prince William, that, at the last Prince William Court, four gentlemen -including the speaker - had urged their respective claims to this nomination; stating that he had no claims, nor had he urged any, determined that he was personally interested the merchants of Alexandria, and indeed to bestowed upon one who had fought in the Endridge & Co., are the agents. Confederate army, and mentioned many incidents to prove that those who remained behind, during the war, were as patriotic and devoted to the cause of the South as those who had gone away. He said there were only two parties now in the country-Radicals and Conservatives-that with the former no compromise must be made, that the nominee should represent the Conservative views of the present were Messrs. Andrew Hunter and R people of this district, and that defeat with Y. Conrad for the Assignee, and Judge H. W. such a leader was preferable to victory under Thomas, Col Geo. W. Brent and Henry Hea

He urged those members of the radical party, who say that they were opposed to the infringement of the Constitution and the vagaries of the leaders of that party, and were forced into affiliation with it only by the secession movement, to prove the honesty of their assertious by now severing their connection with it, as the cause which had induced them to join it supplies of all that farmers need in their agri had been swept away forever.

He then dwelt upon the present condition of affairs, made more deplorable by five years of peace than by tour of war-attributed its causes to radical misrule, aliuded to the measures of relief, and concluded with a stirring appeal to his hearers to arouse from the apparently prevailing apathy, and endeavor to achieve by moral force what a conflict of arms had tailed to accomplish—the restoration of the Constitution as handed down by the men of the Revolutionary times.

His ideas were well expressed, in handsome style, and were received with applause.

FIRST WARD RADICALS. - There was a meet ng of the radicals of the First Ward held last night, at "Little Zion" Church, east end of the tunce!, which was pre-iled over by -Evans, colored; E. H. Delahay acting as Secr tary. There were about fifty in attendance, all colored, except the Secretary and Mr. J. D. Adams. The object of the meeting seemed to oc to discuss "family affairs," and the ones tion of rent caused a lively debate. The Rev. Lewis stated that he had let them have the room on this cecasion on his own "sponsibility," and that in future they could have the use of the church at two dollars per month, -but make as little itter as po-sible in the way of spitting tobacco juice on the flor, and so forth and so on." It was then decided that three tollars per month should be paid for the use of the church, and that a weekly collection he taken up for the purpose of raising that amount, but it was stated that there would be some difficulty in getting it, as out of a membership of two hundred it had frequently occur of the members had a secret, which he could | ly ill. not divulge while there were any outsiders in, and the few spectators, taking the him, thereupon withdrew, when the aforementioned member divu'ged his secret by announcing that Major Wigg, of this city, held an office in the Revenue department - an outrage upon the feelings of the faithfu:-and that he musibe ousted, in order to give place to a "good man and true" of the party, and for this pur pose moved the appointment of a committee to wait upon Secretary Boutwell and the Prest dent, and have the Major summari y ejected which motion, after a slight discussion, was said "under" the table, and the meeting ad journed.

Quiside, Collector E. E. White was roundly berated for making such appointments as Maj. W., and one member of the party declared that White was no better than the rest of the white radicals, who only wanted the support of the colored people for office, and then they didn't care a d---n.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION. - The Convention of the 7th Congressional District will meet at the Assembly Rooms, at 11 o'clock to morrow morning. Large delegations from the twelve counties comprised in the district have been appointed, and a full representation will, it is expected, be present. The Convention will be held for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress, for which position several gentlemen, residing in different portions of the district, have been named. For the information of those concerned, the vote of the district at the last election is republished:

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HALF ALIVE. it is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. Th y complain of no specific disease; they suffer no postave pain, but they have no relich for any thing which affords mental or sensuous pleas ure to their more robust and energetic fellow beings.

In time cases cut of ten this state of la situde and torpor arises from a morbid stemach. Indisection destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the was e of nature is not supplied by a due and regular actimulation of the food, every organ is starve', every function inter-runted. Now what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two, to sink afterward into a more pituable condition than ever, (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimu lant were resorted to.) but radically and per-

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the un varying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given. It fuse new vi or into the diges-tive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters Do not waste time in administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain nad or physical stre gth and energy, the great o gan upon which a I the other organs depend for their nur
